One can never feel quite alone in the halls of Mt. Baker. Walking down an empty hall, one can hear the echo of days gone past. The echo of lockers slamming, voices yelling, and feet shuffling. There also exists an air of expectancy. Any moment the bell might ring, bringing hundreds of students into the hall.

One feels the presence of something unseen, whether the halls are empty or full. Often students have had a fleeting glimpse of a shadow flittering about the hall. An elusive shadow which, when looked at directly, disappears. . .

. . .No one ever really leaves Mt. Baker. Not completely. Behind them, everyone leaves a part of themselves with the school. More than their picture on the wall, awards they have won, or their initials carved on a desk—they leave a memory. And it is this memory which echoes in the halls, or is seen only as a shadow.

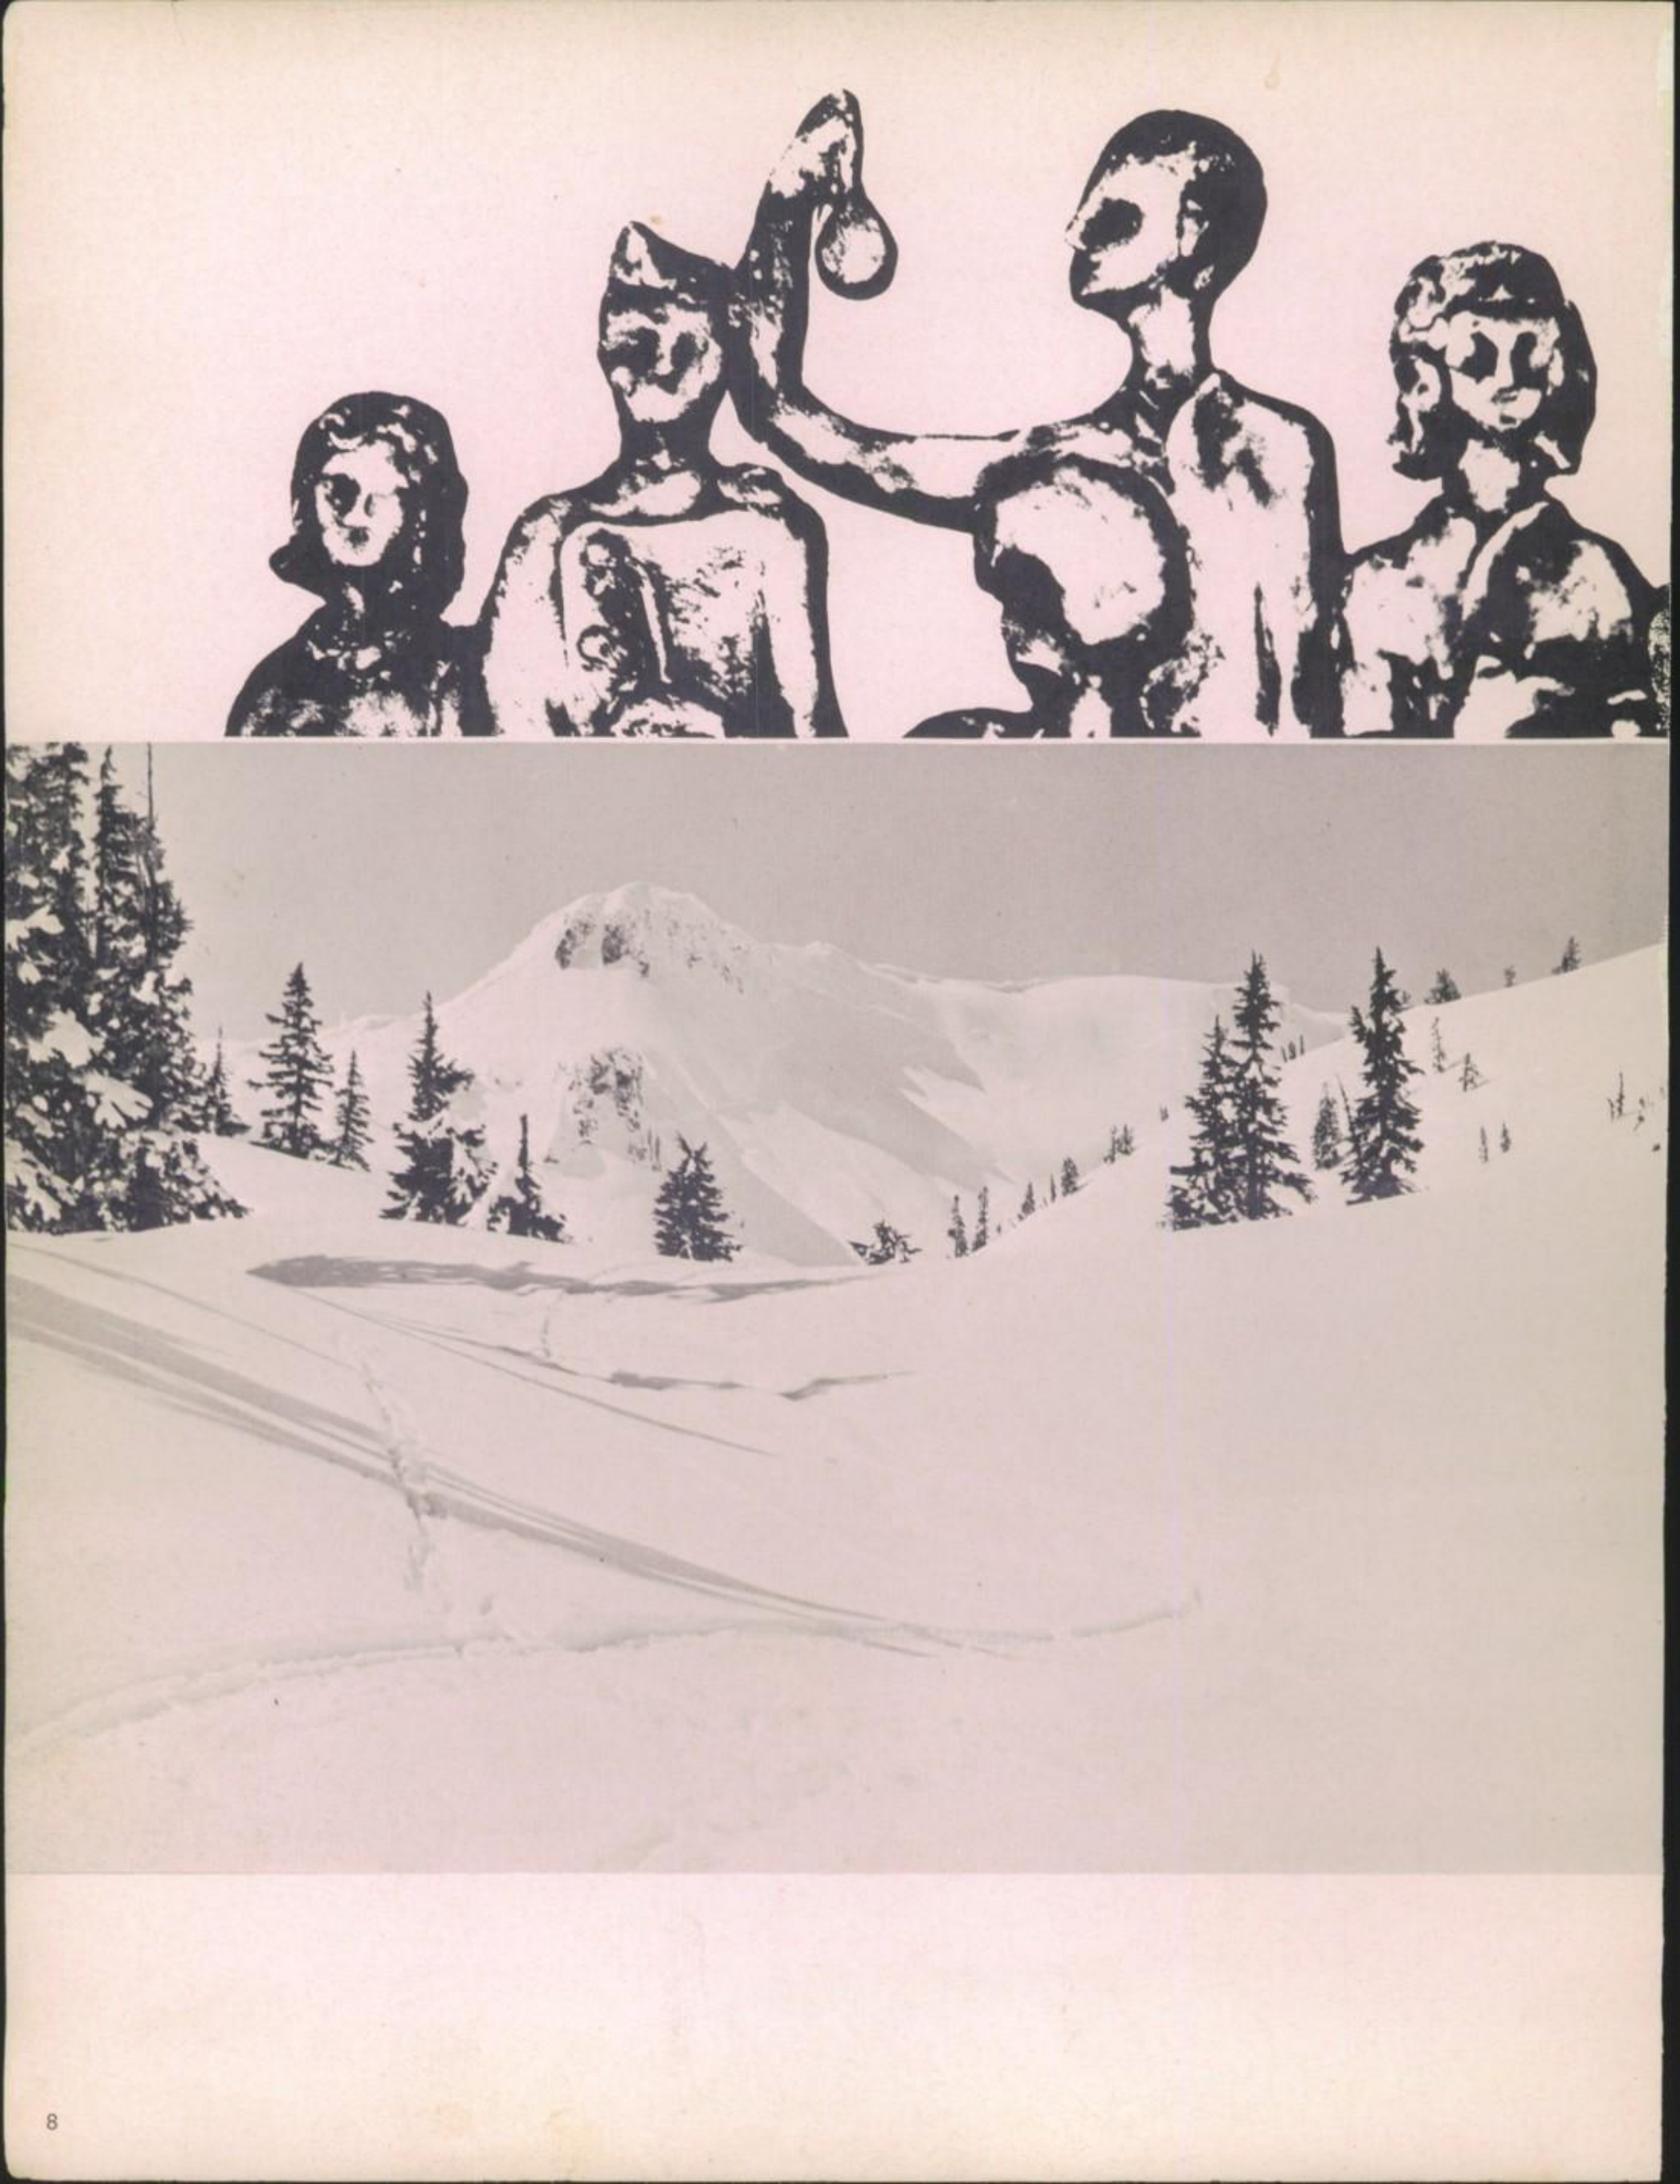
WELCOME ABOARD
COACH CLARK

Whether yelling at a game, decorating for a dance, studying for a test, or saying the flag salute, the Mountaineers have discovered the secret of doing together.

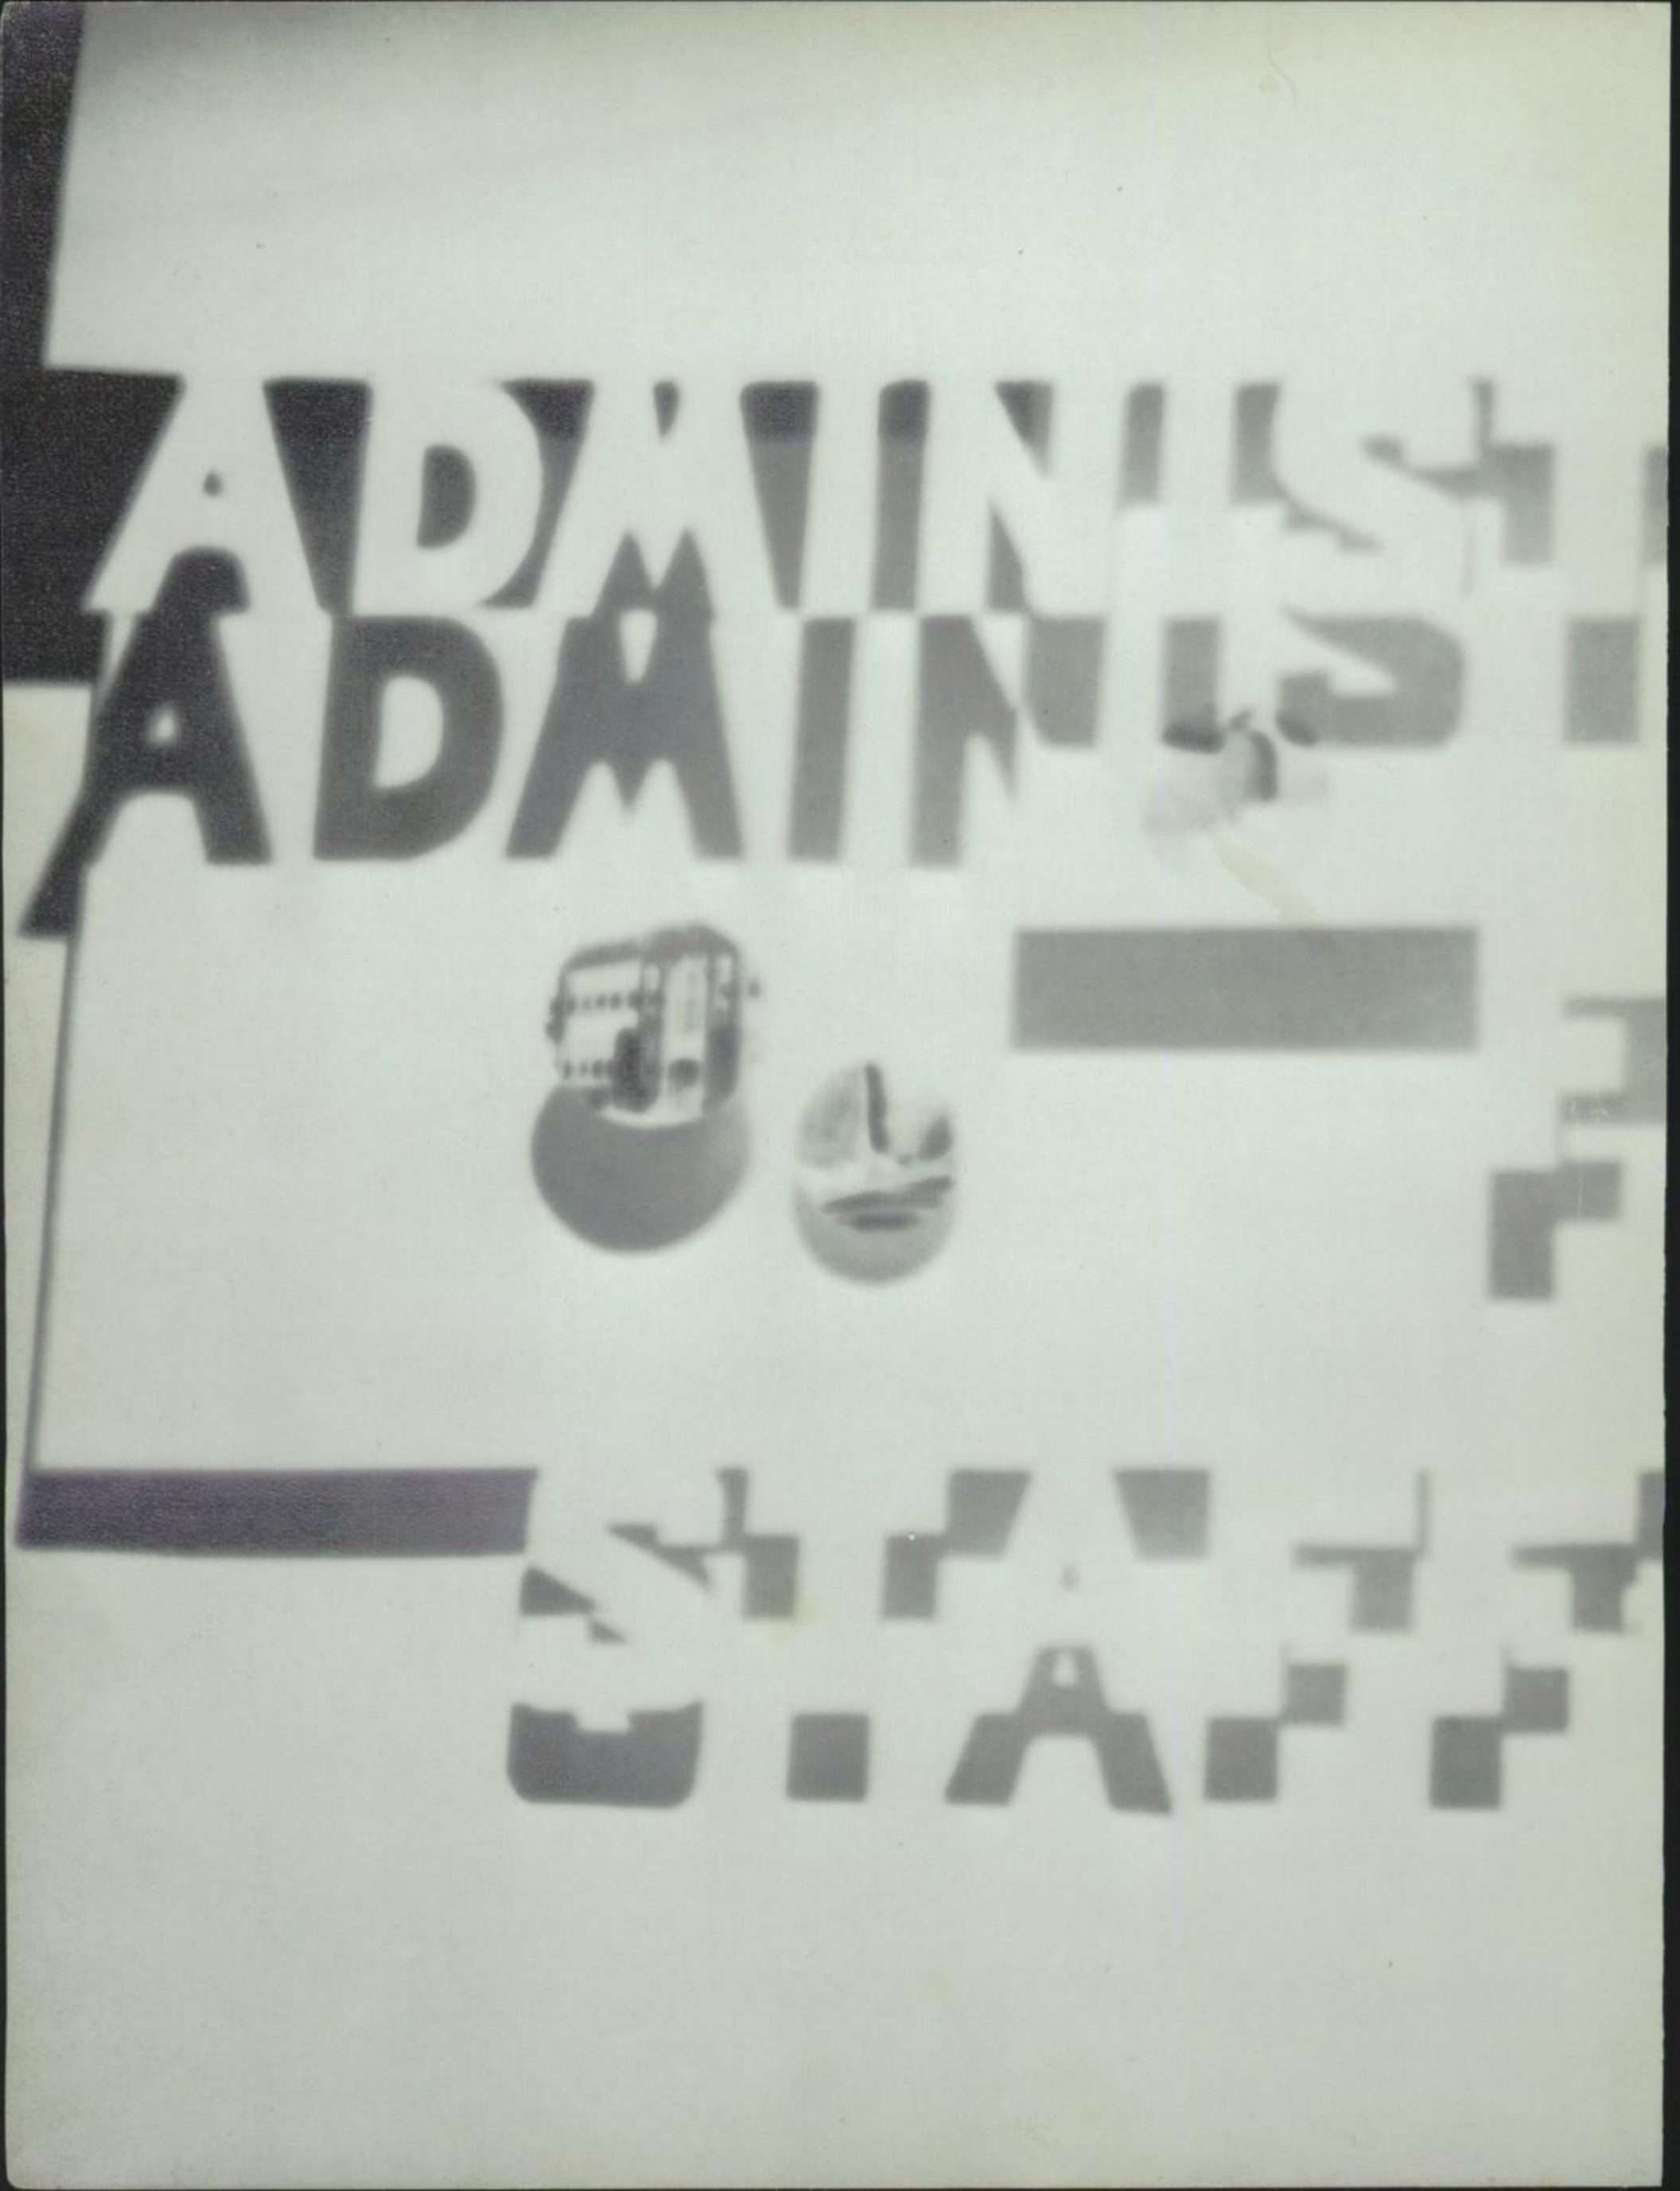


MOUNT BAKER JUNIOR-SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Dedicated December 11, 1925, Mount Baker Union High School was the pride of the upper Nooksack Valley. From the surrounding country-side, rich in natural resources, the school drew its wealth and its students. In return, the "Little Red School House" became worthy of the boasts of the country-side, and was accorded recognition in national magazines.

The high school became a reflection of the development of the surrounding area. As the Mt. Baker area became a popular recreation spot, and the rich farm land of the upper Nooksack Valley was exploited, Baker Union High School's original staff of eight enlarged to accommodate demands for increased technological and vocational experience.

Today, Mt. Baker Junior-Senior High School works to uphold the tradition of excellence. We hope that our community is still as proud of us as it was in 1925.



ADMINISTRATION

Mr. William Castles—Superintendent, Mr. Hsu, visiting Math Professor from the University of Hong Kong.

There is a building close to the school which students rarely notice. Behind these office doors are people who care about the school. They determine school policies, advise the school, and decide the rules and regulations. Mr. Castles and the School Board have done an excellent job, both for the school district and the community.

Mr. Kermit Sande, Mr. George Impero, Mr. William Castles—Superintendent, Mr. James Galbraith—Chairman, Mr. Shirley R. Daniels, Mr. Oddmund Valum

Mr. Calvin Johnson—Principal

Mr. Jack Headlee—Vice-Principal

Mr. Paul Rose—Counselor

Mrs. Kay Syre—Counselor

ADMINISTRATION

Planning class schedules, supervising classes, and handing out dreaded pink slips or cherished green ones, are only a few of the responsibilities of our administration. Much of their private time and energy is devoted to dances, games, club projects, and other student activities. Mr. Johnson, in his seventh year at Baker, has shown his concern for the students through his many unselfish efforts on their behalf. This year, in addition to teaching, Mr. Headlee has taken over the responsibilities of Vice-Principal.

With Mrs. Syre and Mr. Rose as counselors, no one at Baker can feel he is friendless. They have the job of establishing and maintaining personal contact with the students. Through individual conferences with the students, they guide and direct them in college and vocational plans.

LANGUAGE

"The primary purpose of studying a language is to achieve a certain ease of understanding, and a certain fluency of expression in that language.

The teachers' goal is to develop the student's mind so that he is able to express his own ideas on paper. Studying a language contributes to a widening horizon, through contact with other ideas and other people's way of thinking.

Mrs. Penny Wilson—English, Reading, Mrs. Velda Wahl—English, Mrs. Marion Bell—English

THE ARTS

To teach his students to become self-sufficient has been Mr. Hughes goal this year. He feels that in Shop, students should be able to go ahead on their own initiative. Learning to make decisions on their own is an ability which will help them not only in Shop, but in all phases of life.

This was also the goal of Mr. Ford and Mr. Sirguy in their respective fields of music and art. For the second year at Baker, the eighth grade students have benefited from the advantages of team teaching in their Humanities Class. In this relatively new class, Mr. Ford and Mr. Sirguy work together to promote understanding of art and music, in relationship to the development of man.

Mr. Homer Hughes—Shop

Mr. Gordon Ford—Music, Humanities

Mr. Gary Sirguy—Art, Annual, Humanities

Mr. William Boulton

Mrs. Rita McCrory—French, History

Mr. Jack Headlee

HISTORY

Developing the students ability to use history in analyzing their problems is a difficult task, but Mount Baker's History instructors have attempted it and have been pleased with the results. They hope the students will make use of this ability in the future.

From the dawn of history on earth to the dawn of history in space, endless cycles and patterns can be found and evaluated. By studying these cycles and patterns, students become more aware of current affairs. They are better able to understand the problems that face the world today, and those that will most likely face us tomorrow. Those wise enough to profit from the lesson learned in the past, will be better qualified to express their views in the future.

Mrs. Kay Syre—P.E., Art, Health

PHYSICAL AND SPECIAL EDUCATION

Mr. Robert Tisdale—P.E., Spec. Athletics, Health

Mrs. Michaela Boynton
English, Journalism

The special education curriculum has been developed to meet the needs, abilities, and interests of the individual student. The teachers make an effort to have each student feel that he, or she, is a part of the student body and that as a member they have something to contribute.

Physical Education and Health attempt to train the body and the mind. These classes encourage individuals to assume an increasing responsibility for self direction and for the development of their potentialities.

In Journalism, Mrs. Boynton combines a study of newspaper and newspaper work with intensive experience in writing. In addition to practical writing, students receive help in developing the power of observation, habits of promptness, and skills of accuracy essential for newswork.

Mr. Bronson has given each member of the Photography class an opportunity to learn the basic techniques of picture taking, enlarging, tinting and mounting.

Mrs. Dorthy Anderson

Mrs. Pauline Barbo—Special Education
Mr. William Jackson—Special Education

Mr. Vance Bronson—Photography, Mechanical Drawing, Driver's Training

Mr. Wesley Kentch—Agriculture, Mrs. Olive Curtis—Home Economics

MATH AND SCIENCE

The mathematical program stretches from practical problems, where only simple mathematics of the time are used to the knowledge of engineering, aviation, and astronomy. In these classes speed and accuracy are taught.

Student Council in Action

Student Council is the voice, the planner, and the organizer for the Associated Student Body. Led by the Executive Council, it is a unified body through which students can make themselves heard and felt.

Student Council's first job this year was its own renovation. To promote greater participation from the Junior High, the Council voted for separate discussion groups.

Major topics for discussion included lifting the ban on class rings, and organizing a funds drive for a new concession stand. Student Council also initiated the Save the Children's Federation Clothes Drive, which was taken over by the Ushers Club.

THE ARTS

The Mountaineer

Band

New jackets and uniforms added a zip to Mount Baker's colorful band this year. By way of a good omen for the year, in the fall our band had the privilege of playing for Vice-President Humphrey when he spoke at Western Washington State College. The long hard hours spent practicing such musical scores as Dr. Zhivago and Victory at Sea, were well worth it every time the band gave a concert. This outstanding band climaxed the year with its bi-annual trip to Victoria.

This year's Fall Play provided many "firsts" for the production staff. New lighting and sound effects were experimented with and used. Everything, down to the very wall paper, was chosen to match the mood of the play. The terrific dramatic build-up made it necessary for the ten cast members to work much closer together than in previous plays. Only two acts long, the entire play was performed on one set. For an hour the audience was held breathless, as it tried to decide who the murderer was.

As Nancy Johnson's scream electrifies the audience, the mood is set for "The Spiral Staircase".

Constable Dave Roland warns the professor, Pete Hellyer, to keep a close watch over Helen. The Constable fears that Helen, with her speech defect, may be the next murder victim.

Professor Warren's step-mother is believed to be crazy. But her warnings to Helen are more than mere deluded ravings.

Spring Musical

Mix purity and innocence with gallantry. Add Evil. Flavor with a mischievous frump. Beat well, and you will emerge with a story such as Little Mary Sunshine.

A throwback to plays of the twenties when heroines were always gallant, this year's Spring Musical was characterized by staged overacting and an idealistic theme, "Good overcomes evil; love conquers all."

Hard work put forth by actors and directors was ably backed by a host of equally-important artists. Vocalists were accompanied by pianists Mrs. Martha Sirguy and Mrs. Anne Valum; Art Club members worked nightly to produce props of vernal gardens, dark forests, and the "Colorado Inn;" the make-up crew turned ordinary students into fierce Indians, ruddy forest rangers, and fair belles.

Behind the scenes, the stage crew pulled some strings too. Quick new methods of changing props in view of the audience were partially responsible for the success of one of our foremost school productions.

MY LASS

She plays upon the rippling lake
And lingers in the field;
She bends so close to me at night,
Her warm, sweet breath I feel.

Hey, thee, come to me
My lovely summer lass
Oh, give me one last kiss tonight
For summer's almost past.

In Autumn she's a sassy girl
Her pranks incur my wrath;
She laughs and throws the rain at me
Blows leaves across my path.

Hey, thee, come to me
My lovely autumn lass
Oh, give me one last kiss tonight
For autumn's almost past.

Now, winter, she's a flirting minx
With silver beads in rows;
She tugs at me and makes me sneeze
And smartly nips my nose.

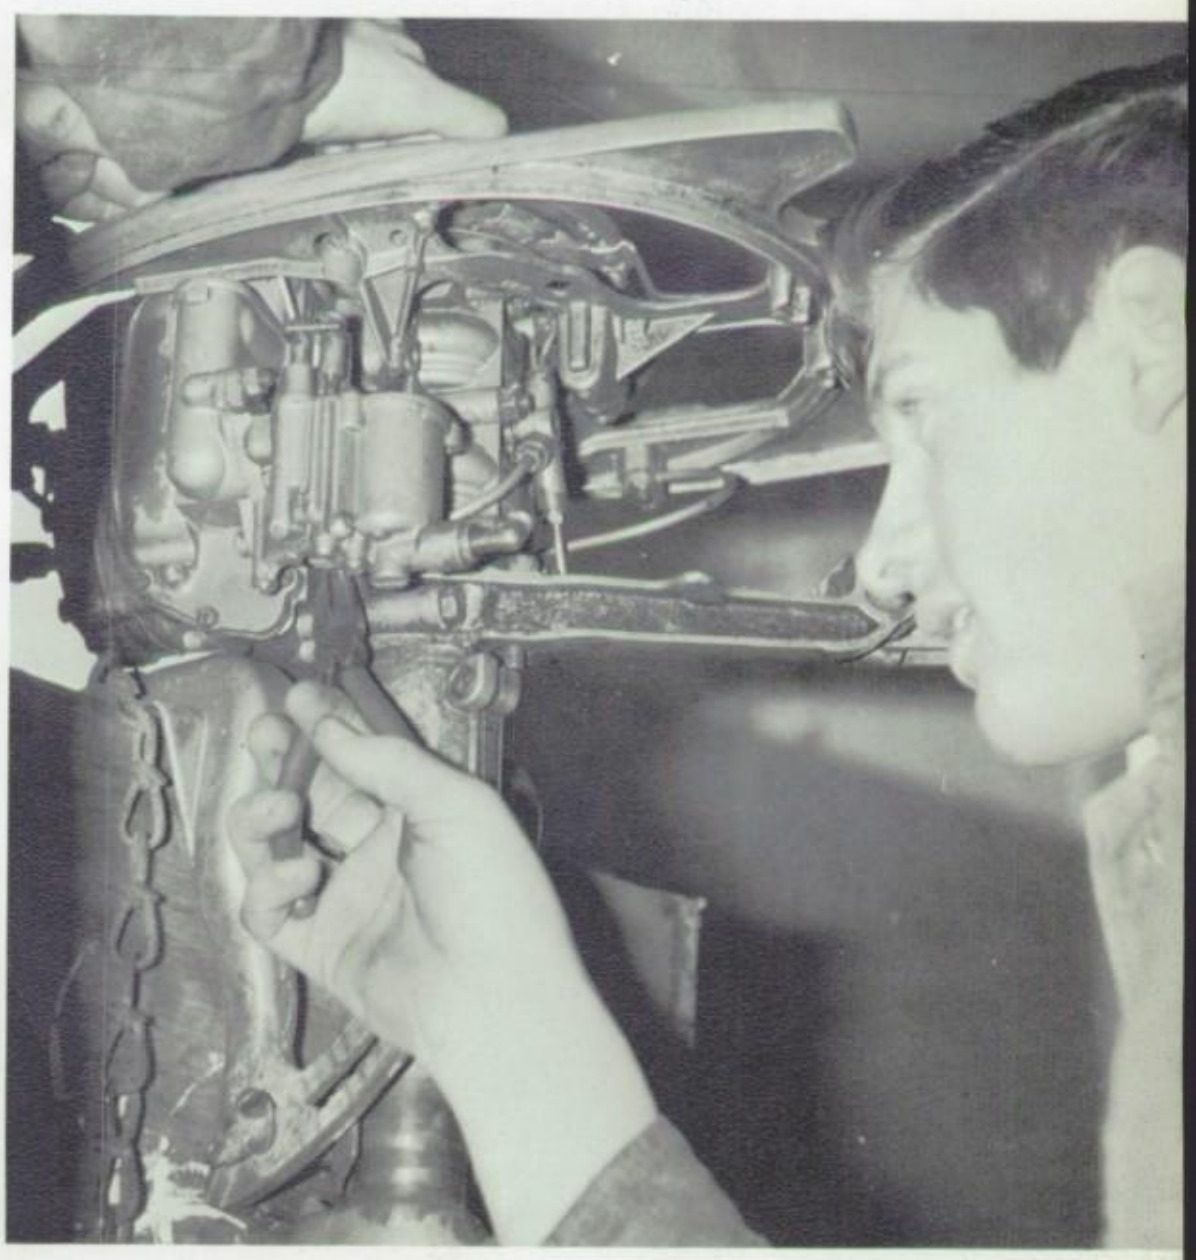
Hey, thee, come to me
My lovely winter lass
Oh, give me one last kiss tonight
For winter's almost past.

The epitome of tender things
My lass becomes in Spring;
When songs of love and soft pastels
Burst over everything.

Hey, thee come to me
My lovely springtime lass
Oh, give me one last kiss tonight
For Spring is almost past.

Industrial Arts and Home Economics

Agriculture Shop



"Creativity" is the pass word in Mrs. Curtis's home economics classes. Projects ranged from basic dress construction and basic cooking to tailoring suits and meal preparation. Later, activities evolved to herb gardening, and landscaping was the last project of the year.

ARTS

The art classes have proved that experimentation and discovery are not limited to the sciences. Smells wafting down the hall kept the school up to date on the latest art projects, ranging from oil painting to fiber glass sculpture.

Annual MOUNTAINEER

Newspaper BEACON

Beacon and Annual are two classes in which old pros, of perhaps a year's experience, work side-by-side with beginners. What's a layout? what's a head? what's a lead? are questions to which every student must learn the answers, and learn them well.

This year, old problems were tackled, and new solutions found. Columns such as "Time Out," "Nutshell News," and "Classy Talk" helped the Beacon Staff present school news clearly and interestingly. The Annual Staff strived and succeeded in developing a memorable picture story of the year's events.

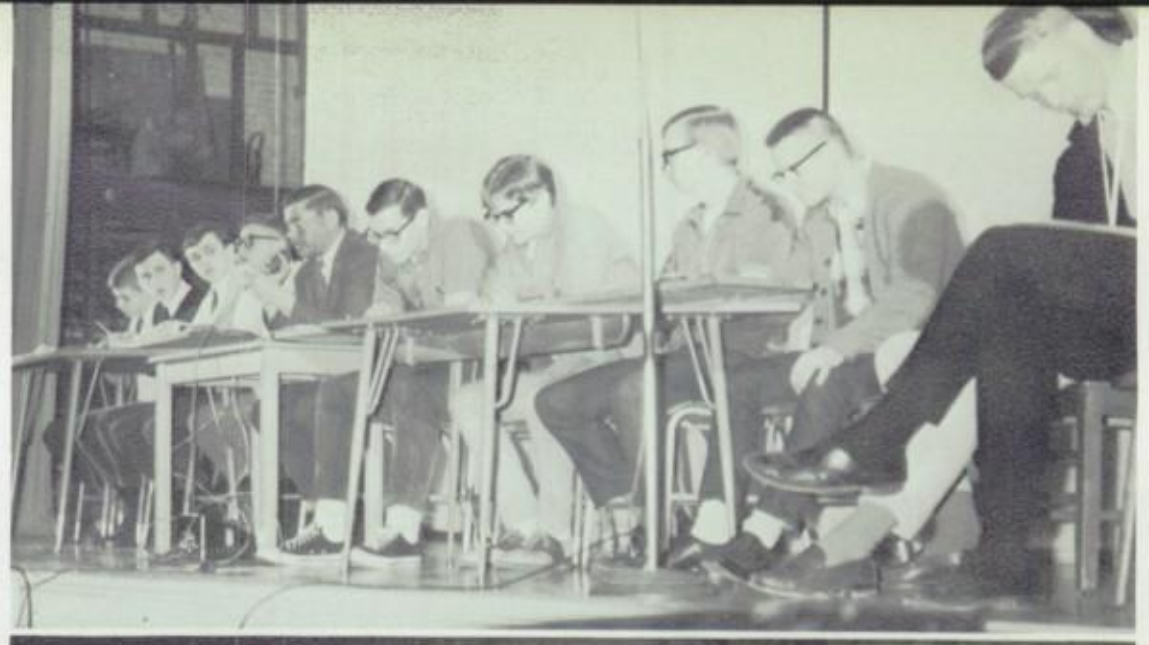
ACTIVITIES



Special Assemblies

Special assemblies held throughout the year lent variety to our curriculum. A group from Western brightened the winter with choral singing. Mr. Smith, a Navy chaplain from Vietnam and Mr. Hsu, a math instructor from Hong Kong gave first-hand accounts of prevailing conditions in these countries. In late winter, the FFA combined a serious attitude with a boyish flair to produce its annual assembly.

Yell Staff Tryouts

A.S.B. Elections

Each year sees a new group of leaders at Mount Baker—a new bunch to set fads, goals, and precedents. And each set of leaders adds its own flavor to the melting pot that is Mount Baker High School.

APPY HOLIDAYS

Last minute preparations for the annual Christmas activities dominated the scene once again this year as the Christmas season came with a flourish. During after school hours the band and chorus held a vespers program for the community's enjoyment. During the nine o'clock to three-thirty hours the Christmas spirit thrived in the hearts of the students. The executive council decorated the Christmas tree on Monday, and the FTA posed as judges for the annual door decoration contest on Wednesday. On Friday the activities were brought to a climax as the senior band held its annual Christmas concert. These activities were all part of the formula which created the holiday atmosphere for the students and community.

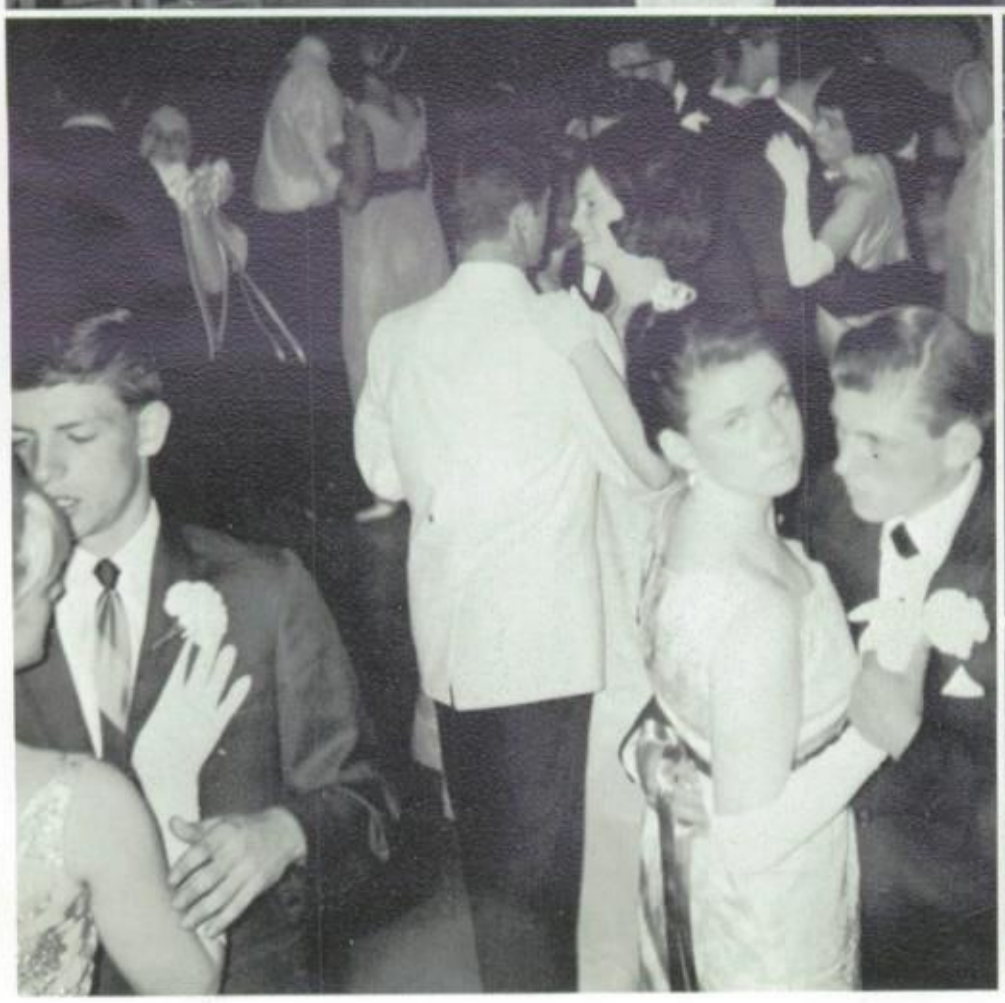
JUNIOR - SENIOR PROM



Moonlight and Roses

"And the queen of 'Moonlight and Roses' is. . ." the candles flickered as everyone became suspended in an interminable second ". . . . Dona Moline." The climax of the prom melted into a royalty dance as Dona joined Mike Harris and Rick Monaghan joined Suzie Ford to the rhythm of "Georgie Girl." When the band swung into a livelier tune, couples left their rose and candle tables to join the royalty, and the room fairly glowed with swirling pastels.

SOPHOMORE TOLO

"Erin Go Bragh"

A mad rush to ask that "special boy," many hours spent finding the "perfect dress," and many more spent worrying about the right thing to say; these signs were all present again this year as the tolo night drew near.

Having set the date for St. Patrick's Day, the sophomores used "Erin Go Braugh," small gnomes, and many four leaf clovers to create an Irish mood.

A disappearing act at the wrong time added an unexpected flair. The absence of three very important boys, the 2nd prince, Virgil Mellick, the 1st prince, Ken Bowhay, and the King, Dennis Workman, reduced the royalty to three girls; Gayle Davis, Margret Bengen, and queen, Nancy Johnson. Nevertheless, the sophomores produced a tolo that will long remain on the memory list.

Song and Yell Leaders

To encourage and maintain school spirit is not an easy task, but it is the responsibility of every song and yell leader. They must prepare pep assemblies, make signs, arouse enthusiasm, and stimulate interest. In fulfilling these tasks this year's cheer leaders have been exceptional. They have been original and energetic and are to be complimented on these fine qualities.

A coach with a head full of football knowledge, a squad of hard workers, and an abundance of desire paved the way for the title of WHATCOM COUNTY FOOTBALL CHAMPS, bestowed on the Mount Baker hustlers for the second consecutive year. With a squad made up of 12 returning starters, coach Tisdale produced an offense that couldn't be stopped, and a defense that was nearly impassable. As the cheer "We can, we can, we know we can" echoed through the stands, our boys DID, as they beat every team in the league. At the end of the season the boys presented the student body with a practically unheard of record of 212 points scored in league play against a mere 7 points on the part of the opposition. Certainly a record to be proud of!

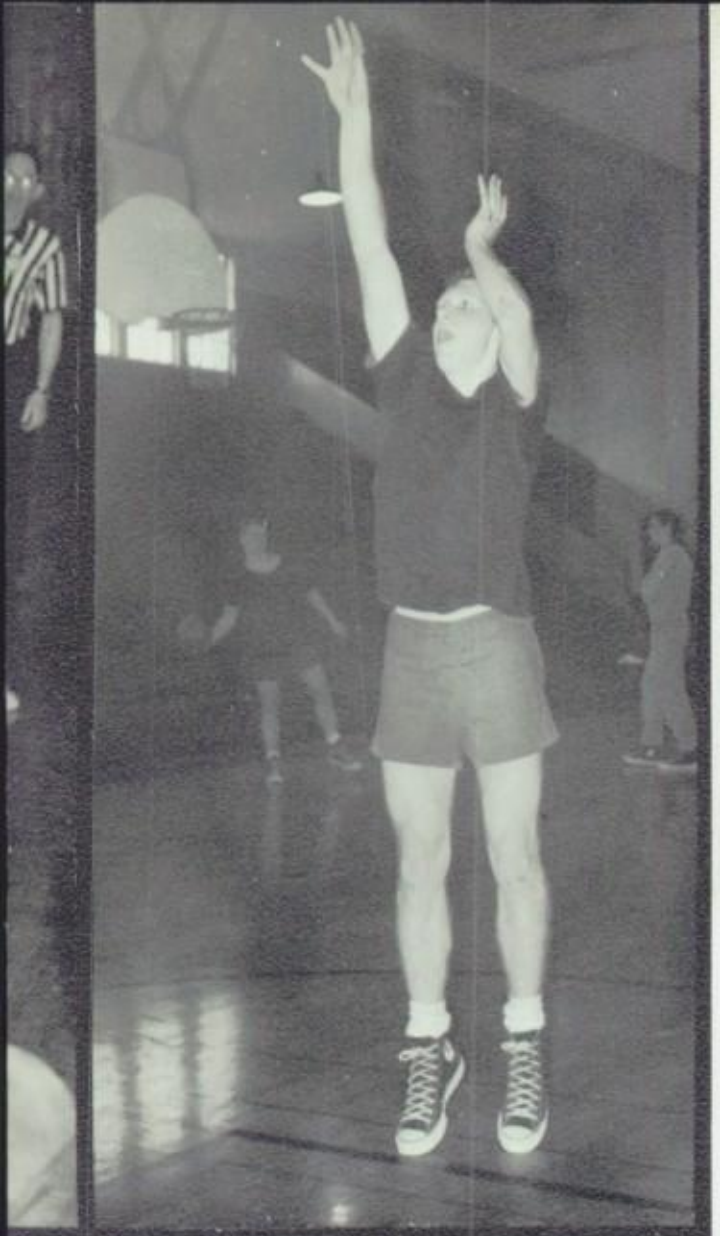
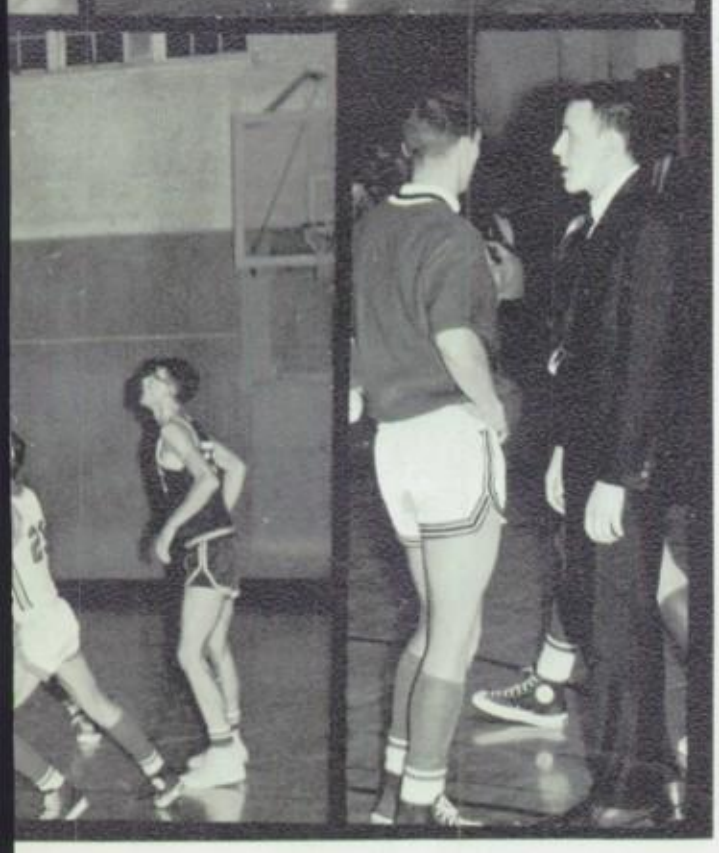
WELCOME ABOARD





With a starting five averaging about 5' 10", height proved to be the biggest handicap confronting our basketball team this year. The aggressiveness of the team and the inspiration of a new coach however, proved very effective in overcoming this problem of height. With a great deal of determination combined with speed and skill they were able to enter the District Tournament giving both Lynden and Nooksack a good run for their money.

WRESTLING

Wrestling being a relatively new sport at Baker has proven that it too is ready to represent our school in competitive sports and rate high in the standings. Wrestling is a sport which requires much strength and endurance as well as a great deal of practice, Baker was proud of its team for being able to attain these characteristics. We hope in later years that the team will continue to uphold its present standing.

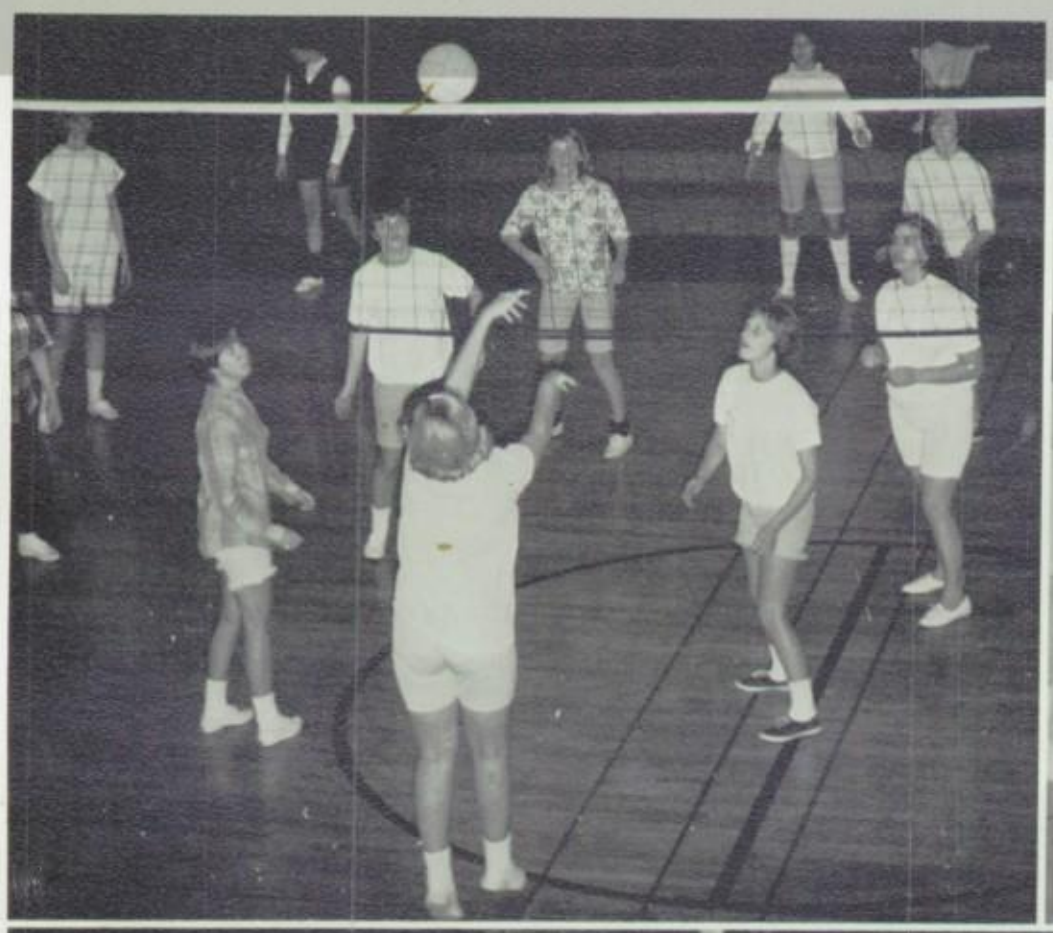
GIRLS' SPORTS

No longer are athletics dominated primarily by the male species at Baker. This year the female gender has been taking a more active part in the field of sports. Under the instruction of Mrs. Syre girls were able to participate in such sports as speed-o-way, basketball, badminton, tennis, track and baseball, attempts were also made to organize a bowling team. This all goes to prove that the female can be as athletically inclined as the male.



BASEBALL TRACK

The season came to a close with the winning of the Whatcom County Track meet and a first place in League Baseball. A record was made in Baseball since this year marks the first time Baker has ever taken the championship singly. Despite stiffer competition in track this year our team out ran, out jumped, and out threw the other county schools at the county meet. Both these first contributed to the attainment of the All-Sport Trophy for a second consecutive year.

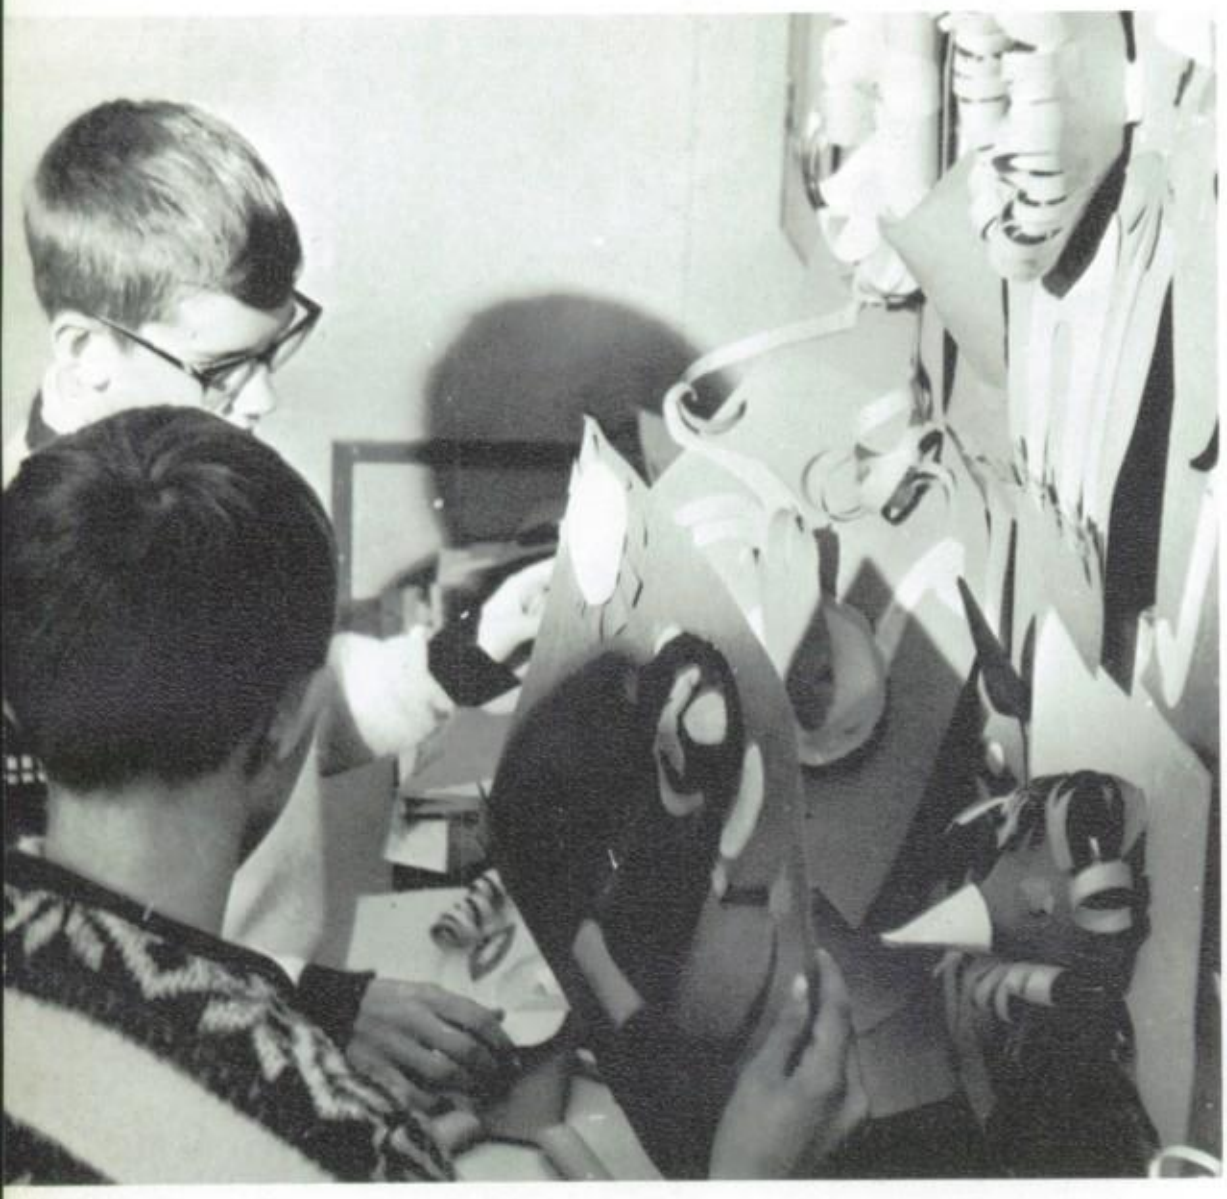
Mr. Ford



FINGER PAINTS, WALL POSTERS, AND PERSPECTIVE — THIS IS JUNIOR HIGH ART. BUT EQUALLY IMPORTANT IN THE FIELD OF ART ARE TEST TUBES, MONKEY WRENCHES, NEEDLES AND THREAD, AND RHETORIC, FOR ART IS MORE THAN A DIVERSIFIED FIELD, IT IS A DIVERSITY OF FIELDS.

Evidence

by Susan Rose

I Hear the chirping of small birds
and, in the distance,
the shrieking cry of a hawk;
I hear the wailing of a train with steady insistence resounding through the trees;
I hear the stepping of the river in free and peaceful cadence
over jutting rocks beneath;
I hear the whispering of the wind
in uncomplicated sentence breathe its love for the flowers.

Oh, the vastness my eyes behold!
the endless blue sky enveloping like a mother cradling her young, the world!
Oh, the beauty my lips ache
to tell:
the towering mountains
encircling like a father
Protecting his Child
the world!
Oh, the love my heart yearns to know the omnipotence of God's caring for birds and trees, river and flower, and me!

ACTIVITIES

Enthusiastic and eager to be tried, Freshmen strengthened the ranks of club-minded upper classmen.

In the Fields . . .

Freshman FHA members worked on everything from the food bazaar to the annual FHA and FFA banquets.

From the Wards . . .

Greenhands harvested crops, picked apples, and pruned trees in the Fall, and prepared the FFA field for new crops the following Spring.

To the Kitchen . . .

This year for the first time, fifteen-year-old girls were allowed to work in rest homes and hospitals, where they helped alleviate staff shortages.

From the Slopes . . .

Skiing is indeed a growing sport! This year's flood of new members, mostly from the junior high, swelled the ranks to forty.

Eighth-graders in training for their Freshman year.

Heading the Ranks

Why does the ninth grade lead the junior high? Simple! Freshmen have had at least one more year's experience—one more year of working, training, and "goofing off" together—and by this stage they are masters of the game.

FRESHMAN FROLIC

A hush fell over the Freshman Frolic. Then, a word, a jerk, and the cafeteria was filled with balloons floating lazily to the floor. During the next few minutes the room resounded with the "pops" of bursting balloons. This brief interlude in the Frolic's whirl of dances was followed by the coronation of the royalty and the "royalty dance." Royal couples were: Nancy Johnson, queen; Richard Wales, king, and Debbie Monaghan, Rita Gates, Ken Gates, and Pete Postlewait.

MY VALENTINE

Zest marked the eighth grade party from the beginning. It reigned over every dance, followed through the refreshment break, and perked up the games.

Popular hits such as "Little Girl," "Little Old Lady from Pasadena," and "Black Is Black" swelled through the cafeteria to the tune of Dean Anderson's drums and guitarist Mark Jordan at the mike.

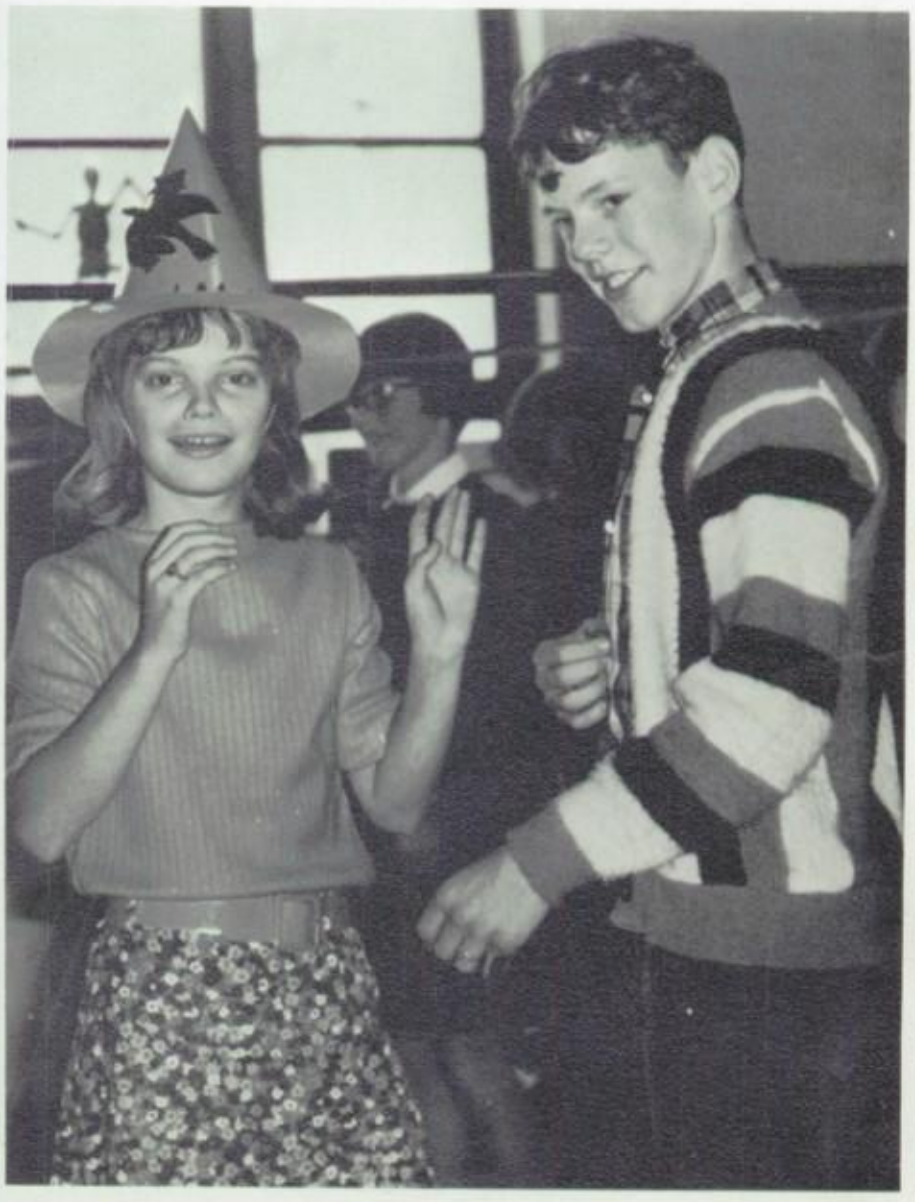
Amid squeals and applause, Mary Klander and Toby Adkidson were crowned Queen and King. Liz Salinas, Debbie Vander Yacht, Marvin Streubel, and Ken Moline completed the royalty.

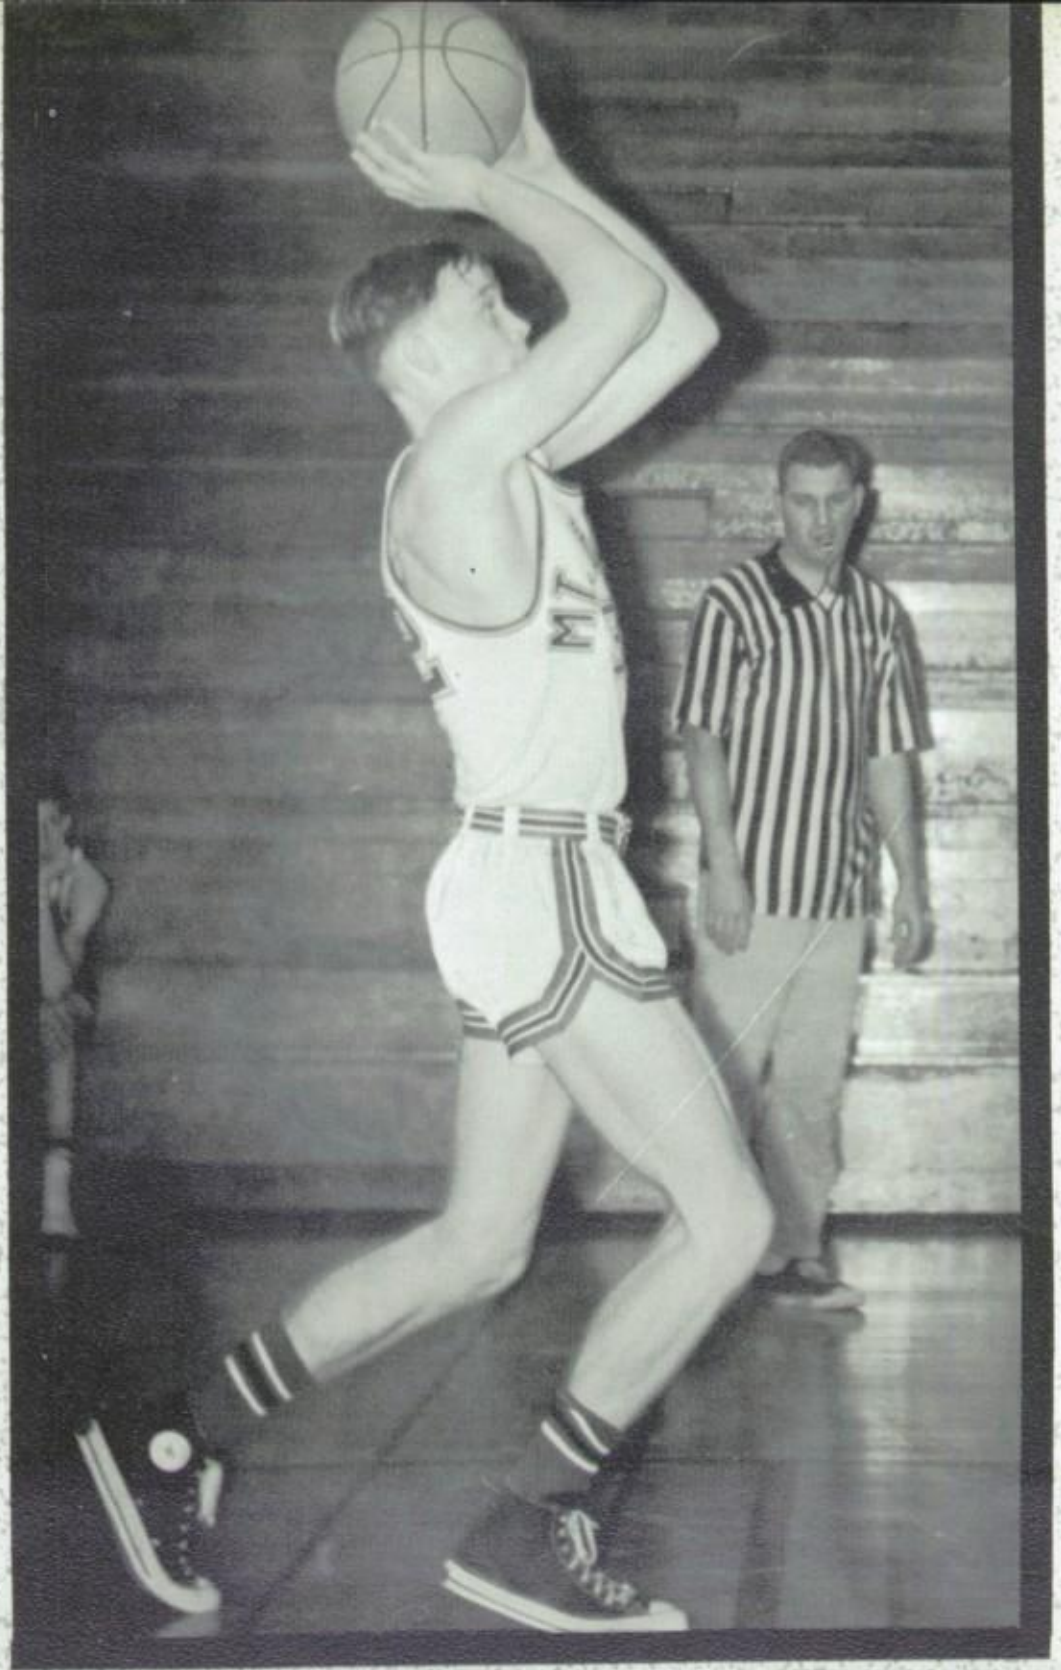
Seventh Grade

WITCHES and GOBLINS

"Okay, you kids, line up—boy, girl, boy, girl," repeated the frustrated announcer. The boys continued to gravitate to one side of the cafeteria, the girls to the other. Then came the day-saving cry, "All right, dance with anyone you like," and the seventh-grade Halloween party began to roll.

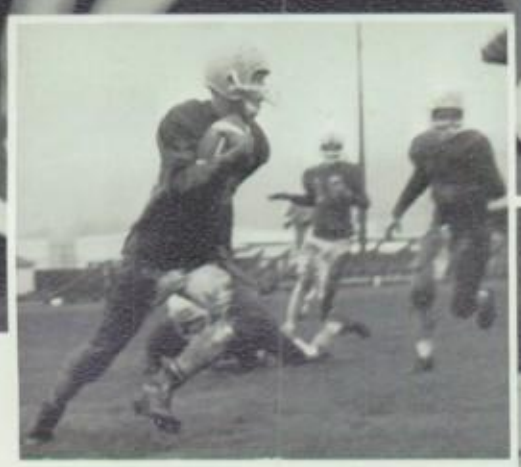
Over one hundred merry-makers danced, frollicked, and ate for two hours in the streamer-hung cafeteria. They topped their party with the announcement of the witch and wizard, Mary Rose and Bert Klemann, and their court, Jodi Johnson, Karen Moser, Rick Carson, and Dennis Spore.





SPORTS

Let's GO!



High spirits and real enthusiam of the junior high cheering staff pepped up seasonal sports and encouraged players. These girls were Rita Gates, Nancy Johnson, Cathy Little and Shirley Bowhay.

BAKER'S FUTURE TROPHY WINNERS

Inspired by the fresh ideas of their new coach, Mr. Clark, the Junior High Football Teams earned third place in Whatcom County Competition. Even though they lost five of their seven linemen through broken bones, their spirit was undaunted. Statistically it was not the greatest season but, Mr. Clark has started them on a road that will undoubtedly lead to victory and the acquisition of many first place trophies.

Junior high track members have found a sport which combines individual skills and initiative with team effort. This year's results have been four top boys; Marv Streubel in the 880; Ray Heller, broad jump; Rick Reed, 220; and Scott Bartl in the high hurdles making district. The team took third places in sub-county and county.

TRACK

With every man from pitcher to out fielder, first baseman to catcher, slugger to bench warmer pulling for us, our junior high baseball team made third place in the county.

Backing Joe Hougen at the bat and Ken Gates on the mound, this team has learned that it takes every member's effort to trip odds in our favor.
